

WaterISAC

Water Information Sharing and Analysis Center

The Water Information Sharing and Analysis Center (WaterISAC) is the most comprehensive and up-to-the-minute online resource of security information for America's drinking and wastewater utilities. It provides a unique link between the water sector and federal environmental, homeland security, law enforcement, intelligence and public health agencies. WaterISAC provides access to tools and information designed specifically to meet the needs of Water Supply and Waste Water Treatment facility operators. For more information or to subscribe to the WaterISAC service visit their web-site at www.WaterISAC.org
